My proposal is to create a new zone in the elk reintroduction area, to lower the amount of predators and to foster better elk survival.

I am proposing a new bear management zone. Currently there is A, B, C and D. The new zone would be the E (ELK) zone. This would incorporate the DNR elk reintroduction area. My proposal is that in the 'E' zone, more bear tags would be given out

In this zone; ~~more~~ more wolf, bobcat and fisher tags would also be available. I believe not only would the elk have a better survival rate, but also other small game species

If, in this zone, the deer population increases due to the reduced predators, this might need to become a special doe tag zone.
