Title: Wisconsin scratch off lottery ticket

Should the Conservation Congress and the DNR pursue the idea of using a Wisconsin scratch off lottery ticket to generate monies dedicated to land acquisition and wildlife management programs? If successful, a program of this nature would enable the DNR, at no increased expense to the taxpayers, to continue its land acquisition and wildlife management programs. At the same time it would allow citizens to show their support for such DNR programs, by purchasing a scratch off ticket, knowing that the funds are dedicated to the DNR programs. It would also provide money to pay the taxes of acquired lands, so as to keep them on the tax rolls.

Be it resolved that the Conservation Congress at its annual 2014 meeting in Wasau, Wi., recommend that the Conservation Congress and the DNR pursue the idea of using a Wisconsin scratch off lottery ticket to generate monies dedicated to land acquisition and wildlife management programs.
