EARLY USE OF CABLE RESTRAINTS.

Wisconsin already allows the use of cable restraints starting on December 1 every year for bobcat, fox and coyote. They are mostly used for catching coyote.

There is a large over population of coyotes in Wisconsin. This leads to a lot of predation of small game large game, domestic livestock, and domestic pets.

I feel you should be able to use cable restraints starting on opening of season ( on private land with landowners consent.) I realize december 1, is used for public land in mind. But there should be no problems on private land with landowners consent.

Be it proposed that I feel that the conservation congress at its annual meeting held in rock county on april 11,2016 recommends that the conservation congress work with the department to take action to allow the use of cable restraints on private land with landowner consent on opening day of season.
