Wisconsin PFAS Action Plan

With input from a public survey and local government and citizen advisory groups, the PFAS Action Plan was developed by WisPAC to leverage resources, personnel and expertise from across a multitude of state agencies and other entities toward addressing environmental and public health concerns that are or may be posed by per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) in Wisconsin.

The deadline for public input on the PFAS Action Plan was Oct. 31, 2020. All WisPAC meetings and listening sessions are open to the public, and the council has ensured that Wisconsin residents have been given every opportunity to participate and provide input toward building a PFAS Action Plan that reflects their needs and concerns. WisPAC will now work to incorporate this input into the plan, before it is submitted to the governor in late 2020.
