Dear Governor Evers:

I write you today to thank you for your support of the recycling industry that continues to thrive and grow in Wisconsin. Strategic Materials is the largest glass recycler in North America, proudly operating a facility in Delavan, Wisconsin.

I have authorized significant capital investments to our Wisconsin facility, which are in progress already. This investment further solidifies our commitment to the State.

Wisconsin's environmental leadership – in particular, with glass recycling – is one to be modeled after nationwide. Glass in the State creates a true circular economy—or closed-loop system—where glass is manufactured, filled, consumed, and recycled all in Wisconsin, which not only supports environmental preservation, but also hundreds of jobs and millions of dollars in revenue.

We take pride in where we work and what we do. We are committed to the State of Wisconsin's economic and environmental future for the benefit of Wisconsin's residents, our suppliers, customers, employees, and the City of Delavan.

Please feel free to reach out to me directly with any questions or concerns.
